- Before considering submitting your work to , please read the guidelines for authors.
- The precise format description for all types of papers is available on Journal Web site.
- Remember that, though we accept any (easily printable) format for submissions, the final versions of all papers have to be provided in Word format.

Review process- What happens after a paper has been submitted?

- First, the Editor-in-Chief sends it to Section Editor (most likely one of the Associate Editors if they are not too busy).
- The Section Editor finds at least 3 independent reviewers. Most likely again, one of them is a member of the Editorial Board
- When all reviewers have entered their review in the system, the Section Editor can either make a recommendation to the Editor-in-Chief, based on the reviews and his/her own opinion, or start a discussion among the reviewers if there is some disagreement.
- After an agreed decision has been reached, the authors are notified by the Editor-in-Chief or the section Editor.
- The possible decisions are
 - The paper is accepted and it can be published as it is (except for some typos).

Accept with minor revisions: the paper will have to be slightly revised following the reviewers' comments, but there will not be any additional round of review, only the section Editor and/or the Editor-in-Chief will check the modifications.

Revise and resubmit: it is agreed that the topic is worth publishing, but the paper requires large revisions before it can actually be published. The revised paper will not be considered as a completely new submission, though: if a revised version is sent within 3 months, it will most probably be handled by the same section Editor.

Please submit your article using the form below. Note that all the fields are mandatory. Please also include the full abstract that will help the reviewers to rapidly decide if your article enters their domain of expertise. Also select one or several topics below to help the editors to assign your paper to the right reviewers. After submission you will get a password that will allow you to access the system and eventually modify the information associated with this article. Contact us immediately if you don't receive this confirmation within a few hours.

THE CONFERMENT OF CUSTOMARY DAYAK TITLE IN CENTRAL KALIMANTAN: AUTHORITY AND LEGAL IMPLICATIONS

Ibnu Elmi AS Pelu, State Islamic Institute of Palangka Raya

ABSTRACT

This paper aims to describe the phenomenon of the proliferation of customary Dayak titles, and the authority to grant customary titles in Dayak communities in Central Kalimantan and their legal implications. The approach method in this paper uses a legal moral approach and a multidisciplinary approach. This paper concludes that the idea of authority and the legal implications of granting customary Dayak titles is based on a respect and reverence for someone. At the level of system, the authority to grant customary titles in the Dayak tribe has undergone a cultural transformation, which is an open authority by the council of Dayak customary and has the authority to be closed by traditional Dayak leaders. Open authority in granting customary titles through the council of Dayak customary is the highest authority in the Dayak customary law. While in the context of the application, authority and legal implications of granting customary Dayak titles that is more contextual in strengthening the recognition and existence of law and indigenous peoples in the life of the nation.

Keywords: Conferment of Adat Title, Customary Dayak Degree, Central Kalimantan, Authority, Legal Implications.

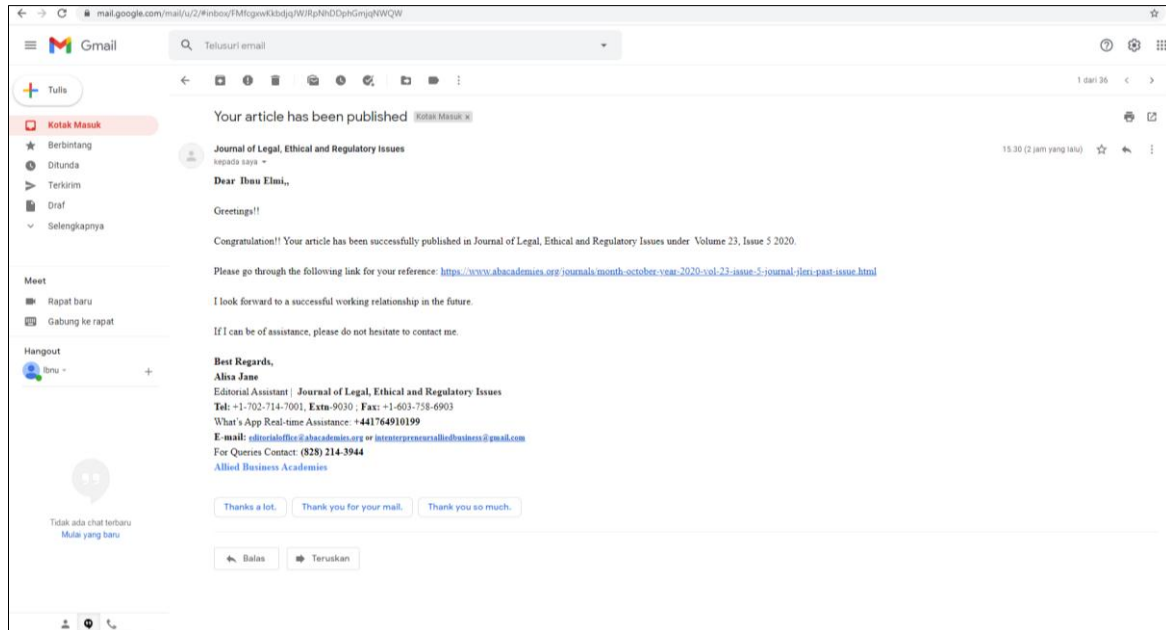

INTRODUCTION

Lately there has been a phenomenon of giving customary titles in multicultural communities in Indonesia. Customary title is a gift from a certain tribe of people to someone who is deemed to have merit and dedication to the tribe who gave the title. One tribe that takes part in giving customary titles is the Dayak tribe. The Dayaks are a tribe of people living in Kalimantan especially in Central Kalimantan. The island of Borneo is divided based on the Administrative region which governs its territory consisting of East Kalimantan, the capital city of Samarinda, South Kalimantan with its capital city Banjarmasin, Central Kalimantan the capital of Palangka Raya, West Kalimantan the capital of Pontianak, and North Kalimantan the capital Tanjung Selor. JU. Lontaan in Hamid Darmadi (Darmadi, 2016; McCarthy et al., 2007; Schiller, 2007).

Related to the customary title, several people have granted the customary title of the majority tribe that lives on the island of Borneo. Among them are high-ranking regional officials, ministers, even high-ranking state officials who also get customary titles from traditional Dayak institutions. Therefore, giving the Dayak customary title is a tradition even became a sacred ritual for the Dayak people. In addition to the ritual of giving customary titles, Dayak tribesmen have various traditional ceremonies which are usually held by Dayak tribes, those are, irwah ceremonies, manajah antang ceremonies, marriage ceremonies, death/balian, mapalas/treatment
