

CHAPTER V CLOSING

A. Conclusion

Based on the result of research that has been done, it can be gotten the conclusions such as follows:

1. The method used by tutor in teaching vocabulary by using flashcards in the class are 1) preparing interesting flash cards in teaching learning process that have relationship with the theme. Those were fruits, animals, things in the class, profession and transportation, 2) showing the flash cards to the students and asking them to memorize the letters of the words written, 3) asking the students to tell about pictures of flash cards orally and 4) giving the students homework.
2. The problems faced by the tutor in using flashcards in teaching vocabulary are divided into two matters. First, the problems faced by the tutor in using flashcards as a media in teaching vocabulary is the proportion time in teaching English is not enough. Second, the problem is the different of students' cognitive aspect in their ability learning English especially vocabulary.
3. There are some ways used by the tutor to solve the problems. They are, when show flashcards, the tutor will use body language or gesture while saying the word. Besides that, in teaching learning process the tutor asks whether students understand the material that has given by her. If the students do not understand the tutor will help them until they really understand. In setting the class activities, the students are usually given different materials in teaching vocabulary, such as students are given instruction to read text, describing pictures etc. so, the students feel not boring to learn vocabulary. Moreover, the tutor sometimes asks the students to do their assignment alone or in group discussion.
